

Music Development Plan

Developing Music in your Primary School - A Self-Assessment Document

About this self-assessment document

This resource has been written by Kent Music to support Kent schools as part of our Curriculum Support offer. The aim of this document is to provide an opportunity for reflection of your current music provision and an opportunity to plan and develop your school music vision. The refreshed National Plan for Music Education, published in June 2022 recommends all schools have a Music Development Plan in place to show their ongoing commitment to the development of music in their school.

Its intended audience is Headteachers, Senior Leadership Teams and School Music Leads.

How to use this document

Step 1: In collaboration with your school/department establish your vision for music

Step 2: Using the music provision self-assessment table, assess your current provision thinking about your newly created vision. Source evidence to back up your findings.

Step 3: Write a plan of action to identify how you will achieve your vision from your current position. How will you address the gaps in your provision?

Step 4: Review the impact the strategy has had on music in school and adjust your vision when necessary.

STEP ONE – CREATING A VISION FOR MUSIC IN YOUR SCHOOL

What is a vision

In the busy day-to-day life of a Music department, it can be difficult to see beyond the demands of teaching your classes, dealing with students and colleagues, and managing administrative tasks. However, it is essential that you find time to step back and look at the bigger picture and spend some time reflecting on your current position and thinking about where you see your department in the future.

The decision that you make will become the vision for your department.

Why is it important

A vision allows your department to work towards the same goal. This can often be a challenge in a music department as there are often so many areas of focus. If you lead a team, it's beneficial to complete this process together because it not only provides you with different opinions and ideas but also creates a more supportive environment where staff are invested in the long-term vision. If you have sole responsibility for music you may benefit from collaborating or linking with another school. Your Music Education Hub can help you to facilitate this if you don't know where to start. If that is not possible or you prefer to work independently then a vision will help you to keep track of your goals and progress towards them.

It's important to consider your school's ethos and vision when completing your departmental plans so that your vision aligns with the school's overall aims.

Things to consider when creating your vision

What do you think the purpose of studying music is?

How do you want your pupils to be changed by music?

What is your ultimate goal?

How does your department contribute to the school ethos?

How do you envisage all elements of musical provision working together: 1-1 tuition, small group tuition whole class and curriculum music.

Our vision for Music

Music brings joy. It is a creative way to express feeling and emotions and helps to maintain good mental health. Making music facilitates thinking in different ways and enables pupils and staff to use their brains in different ways. Music is a global language that we want all of our pupils to learn and enjoy.

We want our pupils to be able to listen to, appreciate, make and evaluate music. We want them to meet the expectations of the National curriculum and beyond so that they are ready for KS3. We want our pupils to find joy in music and to know the benefits it brings to our minds and health.

Our school is a musical school, we have music lessons of at least 50 minutes every week from Year 1 to Year 6, we sing together every week in a singing assembly, we perform at least once every term for our parents / carers and at least twice a year in external events. Early Years pupils have a formal music lesson as well as music through continuous provision. We have a live instrumental music performance from visiting professionals at least once a year and live instrumental music at least three times a year from our instrument-playing pupils.

In future, we want pupils to play live music at the start of our weekly celebration assembly, we want to have an instrumental ensemble and a choir so that our weekly musical experiences can enhance each other above and beyond our curriculum learning.

STEP THREE: PLAN OF ACTION

Reflect on your findings from the self-assessment process. Take some time to select between one and four areas for development and however many categories you need to develop which you can detail in the drop-down boxes below.

Create a plan using the table which will support you as you develop your selected areas. This plan could be linked with the School Improvement Plan (SIP) or could be part of your own departmental plans.

If you would like additional support with creating your plan you are welcome to contact your Area Manager. Kent Music also offers a range of free CPD opportunities for music teachers across Kent. Please do visit our website for more information on what courses are on offer.

STEP FOUR: REVIEW

Once you have had time to work on some of your focus areas, review your original self-assessment and alter bands accordingly based on the improvements you have made over the year.

It is at this point where you can choose to create yourself new targets to support the development of music provision in other areas or continue working towards your current targets if there is still work needed.
